

Graph Analysis of FEC Campaign Contribution Data

money flow through the US Federal election system

FEC donation data is available going back to 1979:

- this analysis covers the two indicated data sets below
 - individual donations to candidates and PACS
 - candidate donations to candidates and PACS

Download bulk data

Downloadable bulk data files contain data from statements and reports filed with the Commission in a form that may be useful to users performing in-depth campaign finance research. The files, which were previously located on the Commission's file transfer protocol (FTP) server, can be very large because they contain transaction-level data. The update schedule of these files varies from daily to weekly. Expand each file's accordion to read more about what is contained in the file.

parse raw data into a Markov graph (or tree) data structure with a c++ program:

graph2_donors.cpp

The program reads the FEC data files and creates the output file "output.txt" output.txt

output.txt

This file contains a list of all unique names (or strings) appearing in each of the 21 fields in the FEC data files. All donations associated with each unique name are aggregated and the list of all names is printed out sorted in descending order of total donations. The three columns are the number of donations, the total donations, and the average donation

The first line below says that the committee ACTBLUE had 485K donations, for $85M total, with an average donation = $176

The TRANSACTION_AMT field is the amount of each individual donation. The first line below says that the donation amount $2700 happened 39K times and totaled $107M.

In the plot below right, transaction amount, the list of ~3K unique donation amounts (from the employer.txt file) is sorted by donation amount (least to most) and summed. Each unique donation amount and running total donated is plotted in the scatter plot.

This plot shows the total donated amount is ~$800M. The breaks in the line occur at donation amounts of $100, 200, 500, 1000, and 2700.

There is a “knee” at $2700, where the slope of the curve changes. Above $2700, the large donations come from individual donors and go to PACs.

The NAME field is the name of each individual donor. The first line below says that Tom Steyer made 3 donations, totaling $18M, and averaging $6.2M

In the plot below right, the list of ~600K unique donors is sorted by average donation amount and summed and plotted as before. This allows the number of donors to be counted over a range of the total donationed.

Approximately 40% of all donations come from 3000 individual donors that made donations of greater than $5K.

Donors that contribute $1000-2800 annually make approximately 40% of all donations. These donors appear to be annual repeat donors. The backup slides show that many of these annual donors are executives in subsidized industries.

FEC sum of individual donations vs avg donation, 2018 jan->may, ~650K donors

The donations are made to the political action committees or the individual congressperson's unique committees, billionaires primarily donate to the PACs and university professors and other subsidized industry executives donate to the congressional committees.

The FEC committee to candidate data files show transfers from committee to committee when one party is a congressional candidate. The other committee can be a PAC or another candidate.

The 2018 committee to committee data file is processed in the same manner: 2018_C2C.txt

The CMTE_ID field is the committee that received (or made) the donation.

Contributions from committees to candidates file description

The contributions from committees to candidates file is a subset of the itemized records (OTH) file and contains each contribution or independent expenditure made by a:

- PAC
- Party committee
- Candidate committee
- Other federal committee and given to a candidate during the two-year election cycle.

The file shows information about the committee expending the money as well as the committee receiving the money, the amount given, and the date it was given, and other information. The end-of-line (EOL) marker is line feed '\n' (LF, 0x0A, 10 in decimal).

KEY TAKEAWAYS:

Individual donations to congressional committees are dominated by lobbyists and ~200K donors that appears to be federally subsidized and make the max annual contributions of $2.8K.

The PACs also receive direct donations as individual contributions from wealthy donors.

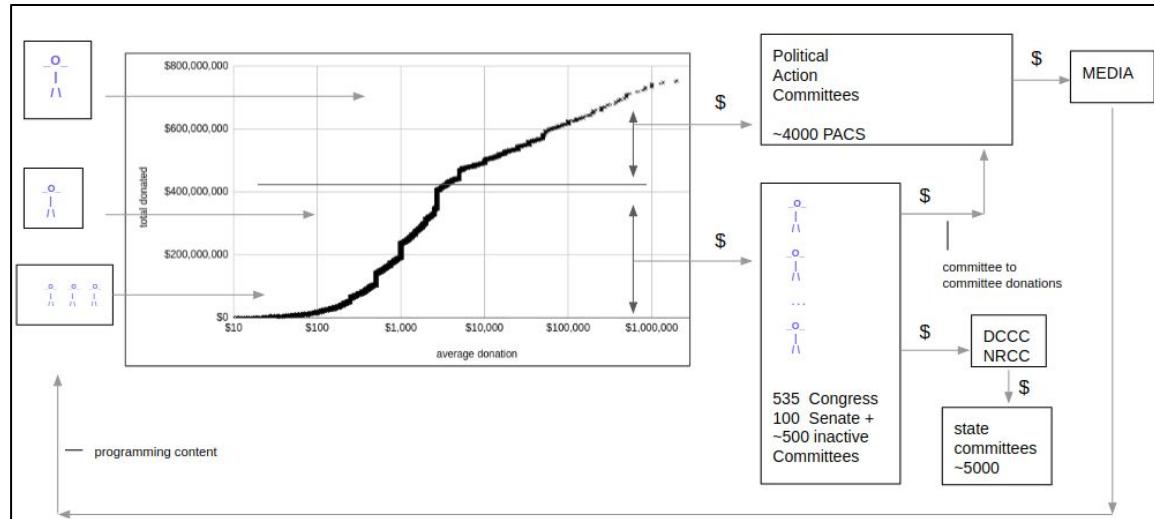

GOING FORWARD:

- plans to the Death Star; the description of the system also suggests a solution
- the entire amount of money flowing through the system annually is only ~$3B.
- campaign finance reform legislation can only be passed through Congress if it scratches everyone's back
- the 200K donors that are executives in Federally subsidized industries are the weak point in the system. They could be influenced to support legislation by directly refunding back a portion of their annual donations, in cash, directly to their bank accounts. This would cost ~$1B/yr, and it would buy widespread support from the executive annual donors.
- The media could be influenced to support the same legislation if it injected more money into the system. This could be done by matching, to the congressional committee, some portion of the refunded amount.

what would we change?

- key problem with current system is that federally subsidized industries have control over congress and the economy.
- HYPOTHESIS: this subsidized and hidden system of industrial complex cronyism is choking overall growth
- Legislation such as the GREEN NEW DEAL cannot be passed if it threatens any entrenched interests.
- any legislative solutions should aim to unwind the economic inefficiencies caused the current system, while keeping everyone whole

FEC donations by employer 2/17-5/17

The scatter plot illustrates the relationship between the total amount of donations made by each employer and the average amount per donation. The data shows a strong positive correlation, with employers like HOMEMAKER and THE ANTHEM COMPANIES, INC. contributing the largest total amounts and maintaining relatively high average donation amounts.

use grep command to search for industry types in the employer.txt file, columns are # of donations, total donations, average donations. the first entry in the list below says that the CHIEF OIL AND GAS company was the employer of one donor, who made 1 donation, totalling $123K
